Fitting In

"The Class of 89"-it has a nice ring to it, doesn't it? But if you had to really think about our class, it would be difficult to describe just who we are. Everyone "fit" together in their own special way- Whether you were "keeping fit" with sports, trying to "fit" your books into your locker, or "fit" on the bus after school, or simply just "throwing a fit" over too much homework. So whether or not you were one of these people, you were still a special "piece" of the class of 1989.

Thumbs Up To The Seniors!

Well, Seniors, we finally made it. Together we've survived four years of homework, tests, research papers, detention, and yuck I.S.S! But don't forget, we've also had plenty of good times. Remember all the friends who stuck by you during the ups and downs and the ones who drove you to school in the rain and snow. Of course, you can't forget dating. Blind dates, double dates, hot dates, and don't forget those losers on cheap dates. Remember the weekend trips, ski trips, and definitely don't forget the Senior Trip. To finish off, the most important thing we all should remember, are our very best times we've spent during our four years at Medford High School.

Dedication

Mr. Henry Selvitella

Over time, a respected tradition has developed here at Medford High. Each annual edition of the Medford High Blue & White has been dedicated to a member of the Medford High School family. It has become the Yearbook Editorial Staff's honor to recognize a person's life-long service to Medford High School, its community and its people.

The 1989 Blue & White is proudly dedicated to Mr. Henry Selvitella. He joined the English Department faculty in 1959. For thirty years as a teacher and 27 years as advisor of the Mustang News, our own school newspaper, he had been an inspiration to his students and his peers, exhibiting a total commitment to excellence in school journalism, a deep sense of of caring for the welfare of his students and an ability to tap the hidden talents of each young person that he taught. His own special way of motivating students to be the best they could be is his trademark. Under his leadership, The Mustang News has grown into one of the most prestigious school publications in the country. Winner of many awards from national and local associations like the Quill & Scroll and, the Suffolk University Department of Journalism, the Mustang News was this year awarded the Pacemaker Award as one of the nation's finest scholastic publications by The National Scholastic Press Association. The Mustang News has a circulation that has reached a peak of over 50,000 per issue. His dedication, skill and courage of his conviction has produced qualified students and quality newspapers for four decades. He established the Anne Baxter Scholarship Fund in memory of one of his former editors and has been presented to an exceptional journalism student annually.

In his free time, what little is left after classes and the paper, Henry is a professional photographer and has preserved life's special moments for many in the city of Medford. From first dates at proms, to weddings, to baby pictures he has been a part of many, many peoples memories.

At the root of all the accomplishments associated with his classes and the newspaper is a unique ability to cultivate confidence and self esteem in his students that will benefit them in their future. Medford High is sincerely proud to call Mr. Selvitella its own.

Superintendent Murano Urges Class of '89 to apply talents.

The appearance of a new yearbook signifying this important time of your graduation reminds us that you have reached a very significant milestone in your lives. It is my sincere hope that the record of events herein contained will provide genuine pleasure throughout the years to come.

I want to express my appreciation for the excellent style of leadership which you have given by example to the Medford Public Schools. May your academic, social, athletic, and extra curricular activities provide you with a lasting foundation which will serve to enrich your futures.

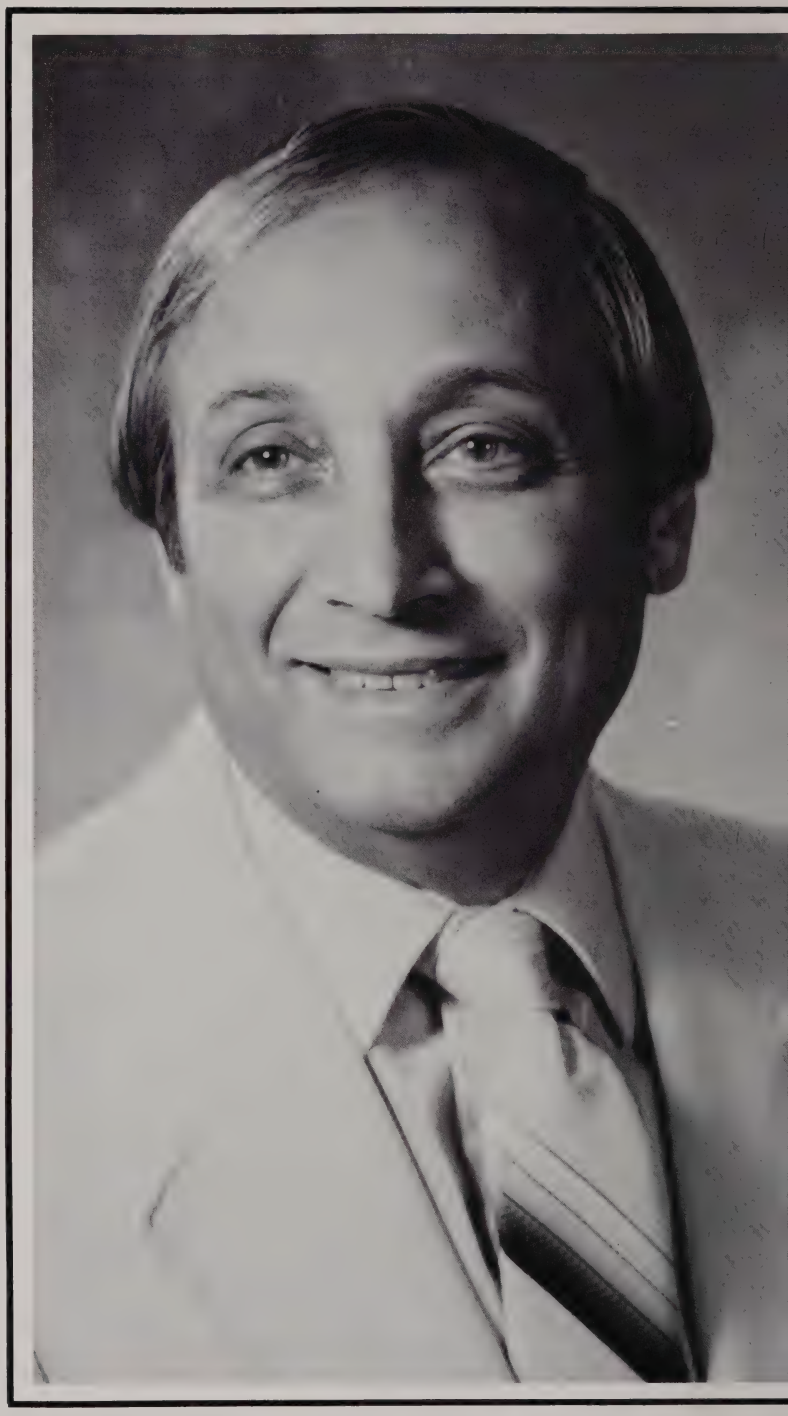

A two-fold expectation should result from your continuing educations and/or vocations. Throughout your formal schooling, you have been presented with many learning theories, but your challenge will be to apply these discoveries to first-hand practical experiences. Secondly, since we have often been reminded that it is the responsibility of people who carry the torches of learning to pass them on to future generations, we must act accordingly. Therefore, take the positive benefits from these gained teachings and share them with others. Sharing is critically important for the growth and survival of our nation.

You can make a lasting difference if you are willing to stand up for what you believe and value. Take the time to listen, be willing to admit mistakes, and never forget to search for improved solutions to problems. Capitalize on your strengths and abandon striving for perfection in others. Tolerate differences and look for harmony in your daily lives.

In summary, there are several basic components to help prepare you for your exciting futures. The first is to look into ourselves and evaluate our actions. Another aspect is to reach out to others in renewing friendships and being mindful of how we are needed by others and how we need them.

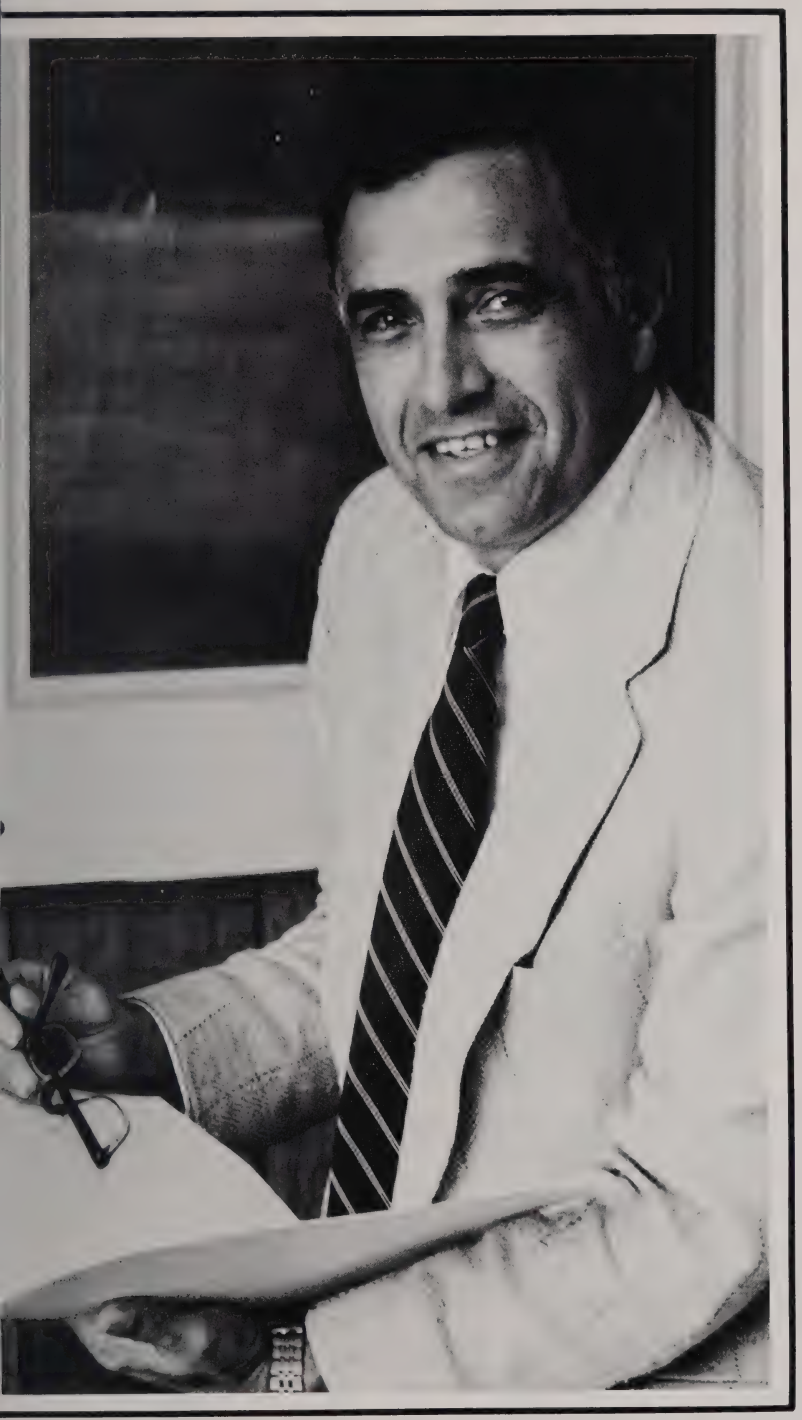

On behalf of the Medford Public Schools, I congratulate you and wish that your lives will be filled with health and happiness in the pursuit of your dreams.

Continued success to the Class of 1989!

Superintendent, Medford Public Schools

Headmaster Todaro's advice: Set meaningful and worthwhile goals

Headmaster, Medford High School

The Class of 1989 is truly representative of all of the finest qualities that are associated with seniors across the nation. Your caring for the less fortunate and your commitment to make the world a better place is a breath of fresh air in a world filled with anxiety and skepticism. Creativity, loyalty, honesty, and accountability are synonymous with this year's graduating class.

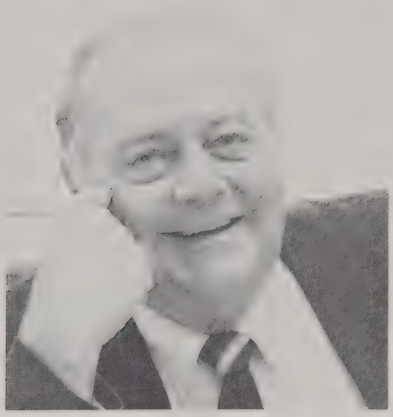

The experiences each of you have gleaned during your tenure at Medford High School will have relevance in your decision-making process for years to come. Unique circumstances will require each of you to delve into your wealth of knowledge and personal encounters in order to turn negative situations into positive outcomes. Yes, you will encounter situations which at the initial point of contact will seem insurmountable. But at that time, I feel confident that each of you will rise to the occasion with the confidence of knowing how to handle the situation and resolving it to your satisfaction.

Life, as we know it, is guided by goals - things we want to achieve or do during our lifetime. I encourage each of you to establish meaningful and worthwhile goals in light of your ability and willingness to achieve them. Goals without commitment and personal sacrifice will be nothing more than whimsical and wishful thinking, which will have no lasting results. In order to fully realize your established priorities in life, direction will be needed to find that elusive pot of gold at the end of the rainbow.

The future is yours to conquer and to enjoy with family and friends. The open-minded person will view the future and all that it offers, as a challenge to improve the quality of life. I strongly urge each member of the Class to seek the best that the future has to offer. By doing this, you will experience a lifetime of excitement and new found happiness at the turn of every corner.

In closing, I should like to leave the Class of 1989 with a thought best expressed by Emily Dickinson.

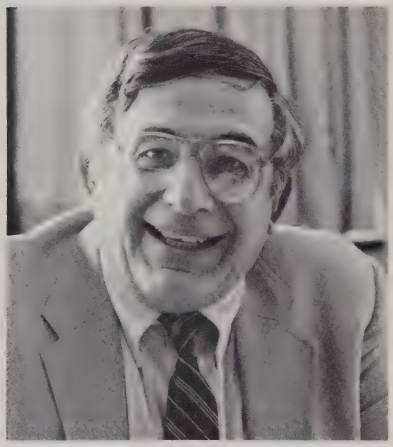

"We never know how high we are
Till we are called to rise
And then, if we are true to plan
Our statures touch the skies."

"I consider students people."

"Watching frightened, young freshmen grow into responsible young adults and seeing the changes in my homeroom students in the four years, most of which are for the better." That is the most memorable recollection for Ms. Louise D'Antonio of the the last four years. With 20 years of teaching behind her, she is a graduate of Boston College and Antioch College at Cambridge. Seeing the awareness in students shows Ms. D'Antonio that they can think and analyze for themselves. It was her enjoyment of reading and discussion that brought Ms. D'Antonio into the field of teaching. "I like to work with people and I consider students people." Ms. D'Antonio wishes the class a peace in the sense of natural curiosity.

"Teaching Law - a privilege"

A graduate of Boston College, Mr. James McDevitt is finishing his 26th year in education, all in the Medford School System. A teacher of Law classes and associated with the high school branch of the Medford Cooperative Bank, he describes his time in the classroom as the most meaningful part of the job, he feels it "exciting and never boring."

He finds the real life drama of the American Court System a fascinating subject to deal with in a classroom setting. The awesome power of 12 ordinary citizens selected as jurors, leaves his intrigued. With the excitement of the unknown verdicts. Mr. McDevitt finds teaching about Law "a heck of a privilege to be entrusted to explain it to my students."

He recalls the Class of "89's overall wholesomeness and genuine sensitivity and respect they had for each other and Medford High School.

May You Fulfill Your Dreams

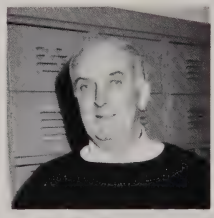

During her 25 years in the Medford School System, Dr. Raymonda Hickey has enriched the lives of her students as a teacher, a guidance counselor, and a Pre-Med advisor. She has brought her education from Emmanuel College, Tufts University, Boston State, and Boston University to students on all levels. Dr. Hickey hopes her students gain an interest, appreciation and respect for life.

To make her classes more interesting and meaningful Dr. Hickey depends mainly on a laboratory investigations and oral recitations. She feels that by stressing critical thinking & study skills the major responsibility for learning is shifted onto the student. Positive feedback from former students is the most rewarding aspect of her job. "This is what makes teaching worthwhile," she states. "The students are a credit to themselves, their parents, and the school system.

"My hope for the Class of 1989 is that each student will not only achieve the career of his choice or the fulfillment of his dreams but will also become a person of integrity who has compassion and concern for his fellow man."

Throughout our school years, the biggest part of our lives at Medford High was Academics. Civics as a freshman, languages as a sophomore, Exploring Childhood and other fun electives as Juniors. Then came our Senior year of English and gym, but our Senior year is when we start to expand and find out what we are really interested in. As these years went by, we filled in the missing pieces of our life here and, now that the year is at its end, our lives at Medford High School have been completed.

Curtis-Tufts Alternative School

When a regular education program at a high school no longer meets the needs of a student where can he go? When a teen cannot find success within the walls of a big high school, where does she go?

One possibility may be the Curtis-Tufts Alternative School. Although the program may not be for everyone, it certainly is working for a good number. In its eighth year, it serves as a small, structured and supportive environment for a maximum of forty students at a time. Led by Mr. Alan Levy, the staff members often serve as teachers, counselors, parents and friends to the special needs teens.

The students must meet their home high school diploma requirements in order to graduate. The program is designed to address the emotional needs of individual students, and to teach them appropriate social behavior in preparation for the "real world" following graduation. This year the class of 1989 has fifteen members — the largest senior class ever.

About eight years ago, Mrs. Thompson had an idea that would save teachers and any other faculty member from the heartache (or heartburn) of the school food. What began as a Foods-3 program for special education children at the old Medford High School, is now an actual restaurant located in room A-210.

The Winthrop Cafe, which is now operated by Mr. Ross, is open once a week on Thursdays for any faculty member. Mr. Ross has been directing the restaurant now for about four years and feels that it is a great success.

All of the food is prepared from scratch by the juniors and seniors who sign up for the course. It is a five period course and those who sign up for it are usually required to have already taken Foods-1. The students do all the cooking, cleaning, and serving and are also graded on their work. The Cafe is set up in an actual restaurant manner with tablecloths and music, and a reservation is also required of all diners. The dinner consists of one set entree per week, a salad bar, and a dessert also coincides.

Mr. Ross added that although the enrollment of students is considerably small each year, "the kids put their best foot forward" and are always there for him. Continued success is wished for all those who participate in this unique course.

MEDIA

When some of our class members first entered Video Production One, most of them had little or no experience working with video equipment. Slowly but surely, they learned how to use all the equipment necessary to produce television programs that are cablecast on our own school channel—M.H.S. T.V. Channel 22.

Students not only create remote videos using camcorders, but also do in-studio productions in our state-of-the art televison facility located adjacent to the library resource center. Over the several years that Video Production has been an elective, shows such as, the state award winner, M.H.S. Newsmagazine and M.H.S. Sports Update have been a regular part of our programming. Special programs have also been produced as well. They've even interviewed celebrites - people like Derek Sanderson of the Bruins and Medford's own Mike Pagirulo of the Yankees.

DRIVER'S ED

Each year, 150 students are prepared to "hit the road" by driver's education teachers Mr. Earl Boudreau and Mr. Paul Godice. Supplied both classroom and road time, students get off to a good start in the world of happy motoring. The amazing part of this story is that Mr. Boudreau is in his 36th year of teaching driving and Mr. Godice is in his 24nd year ... a combined 60 years of teaching teenagers how to drive and still cool, calm and collected. These gentlemen must know special secrets in personal stress reduction!

ESL

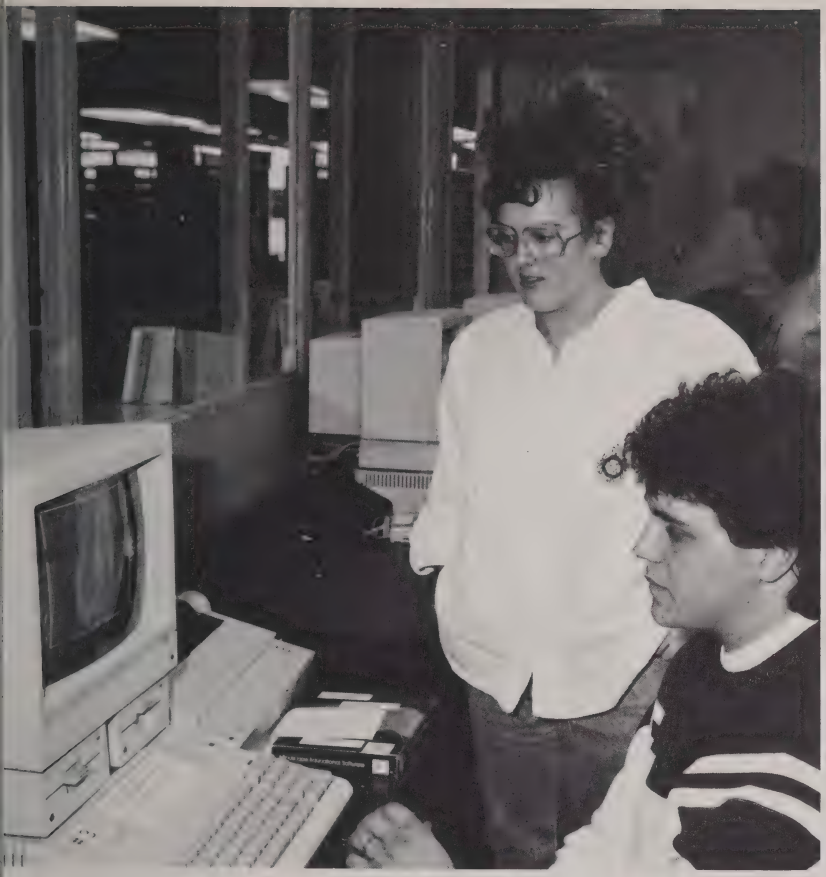

I often wonder what it would be like to go to a strange land and not know anyone or speak their language. Having to take on a whole new culture to "fit in"! Well, each year several foreign born and non-English speaking students who face this dilemma enroll at Medford High School. They comprise a group called E.S.L. (English as a Second Language) students.

E.S.L. teaches the students necessary skills such as grammar, proper English diction and communication, American History, college life, and decision making. They implement field trips as part of their curriculum. They have visited colleges as well as the Medford Police Station. Dominique Loyer as E.S.L. student, notes that "it is a good thing that the E.S.L. is making us a part of the places that we don't know. "There is a certain brotherhood the students of E.S.L., as stated by Ermol Sheppard, "sometimes talking to other E.S.L. students you hear similarities in their native language to yours." Dominique says, "When we see an E.S.L. student we have to talk to each other because we are in the same boat.

COMPUTERS

You have heard the expression, "Does not Compute!" That is NOT true at Medford High School. Computer Labs in English, Math, Business, Science Departments and Resource Center and the Vocational School are exposing more and more students to the values computers have as tools for learning. Everett S. McCassey's, Administrator of Data Processing, philosophy has been, "Use computers to learn, not just learn about computers." Students teachers, and administrative staff at Medford High School have all become a contributing part of the Computer Age!

The Nursery school at MHS has been operational for years, under the direction of Ms. Lahaise, Ms. Comeau, and Mrs. Cronin, high school juniors and seniors teach nursery school children ages 4 & 5. Twice each week, the children are taught about the alphabet, numbers, nutrition, and more. The high school students make up their own lesson plans for their children. Each student teacher and partner prepare needed materials for their lessons. Activities range from making English muffin pizzas to number "fishing", to singing. All those involved, teachers, students & the little ones, share a positive learning life experience.

Cooking class or Food Services has been available to MHS students for six years. Mr. Ross, who has been teaching for 5 years, teaches the students about kitchens safety and how to prepare food for large amounts of people. The students learn this by preparing and cooking for the teachers in Winthrop Cafe!

My best wishes to the Class of 89. Your four years of hard work, commitment, sharing, and selflessness, have been rewarded. You have taken from Medford High School, but more importantly, you have given. You have invested in yourselves and your school and we are all enriched by your efforts.

Your foundation for the future has been securely laid. It is now up to you to build upon this foundation. I urge you to accept the challenges of life, and whether you win or lose, to improve yourself after each experience. In adversity, find strength and knowledge; in success find humility and happiness. Be willing to share your success with those less fortunate; to lend a hand to those in need; and be willing to give of yourself to create a better society.

Your teachers have prepared you for the future. The best years of your life await you. Set your goals, but realize hard work and commitment are the roads to your destination. Self-fulfillment and self actualization will bring you the highest form of happiness.

Let me leave you with this thought by Wilfred Grenfell-

> "Real joy comes not from ease or riches or from the praise of men, but from doing something worthwhile."

Lawrence Volpe
Director, Medford Vocational Technical High School

ACADEMICS

I have been a teacher of history in the Medford school system for eighteen years. I would like to share a few of my thoughts on history as an area of concentration, on teaching in the community where I live, and on teaching school in general.

More than any other subject, history touches the future. It has been said, "He who does not understand the past is doomed to repeat it." As a history teacher, my goal is to stimulate an awareness of history as more than an endless succession of meaningless events. Behind historical events lies a pattern, a cause and effect relationship. Only by awareness of these intricate patterns of the past can we hope to avoid the errors and emulate the successes of those men, both wise and foolish, who preceded us.

As regards teaching in the community where I grew up, and where I now live, I enjoy the sense of continuity. My wife and I both graduated from Medford High School. My daughters are students here now. Many of my present students are sons and daughters of my former classmates. To see the next generation grow and flourish as they prepare to take their places in society has been a source of deep satisfaction to me. In an age of alienation, I have been able to grow, study, work, and reflect on the pattern of life in one community.

In closing, I would like to state that I am proud of the teaching profession. In all these years, although there have been moments of frustration and moments of exhaustion, there has never been a day that I regretted my choice of teaching as a career. Here in America, young people are our greatest natural resource. To work with these youngsters, to open their eyes to the complexities of the world around them, this is to touch the future!

Senior Dress-up Day

Every year before Christmas, the Vocational High School sets aside a date for annual dress up day. This is when the students show their school spirit by dressing up in their nicest clothes while the teachers try their best to dress the worst.

During the day the shops are full of parties celebrating Christmas and the coming of the New Year. Everyone looks forward to participating in this Voc tradition.

A SPECIAL THANKS

The class of '89 with nearly 400 students, each one with different opinions and dreams, has been gently but firmly molded into a cooperative, productive class.

When we look back and remember these past four years our minds will be filled with memories of good friends and great times. None of our proms or semi-formals would have ever been possible without the hard work and determination of our advisors- Mrs. Valerie Sherman-Jannone and Mr. Charles Jannone.

Mrs. Sherman-Jannone started teaching in 1975 as an aide in Special Needs. She now has a degree in Elementary Education and a Masters in Special Needs. She decided to advise our class in 1985 and has helped to bring us much success ever since. She feels that the class of '89 is helpful, enthusiastic and cooperative.

Mr. Jannone agreed to help his wife with the task of co-advising. He started working as a teacher in 1972 and now teaches automotives in the Vocational school. He decided that since he knew a lot of the kids that he could help. He has enjoyed watching the class of '89 grow and mature.

These are they're parting words to the class of '89:

"You're very special to me because you are the first class that I've ever advised. You have given me the chance to work with you on both a social and personal level"
— Mrs. Valerie Sherman-Jannone

"I wish you the very best. You're one of the best groups of students I've ever had the opportunity to work with."
— Mr. Charles Jannone

We thank you both for all of the time you have given to us. We would never have been able to do it without your help!

OUR FIRST FORMAL

It was our first year in High School and we were ready to hit the dance floor at our social event of the year. Yes, it was the class of 1989's Freshman Semi-Formal, held on Friday May 2, 1986 at Carroll's Diner. The tables were decorated and the floors were filled with everyone dancing to the music of Ron Zampell. Our last song "Stairway to Heaven" was the perfect step for future great memories.

SOPHOMORE'S DANCE AWAY THE NIGHT

Our sophomore semi-formal was held at the Stephen James House on Friday, May 10, 1987. It was our first experience with Mr. Selvitella and his camera getting shot of our dates having fun we socialized a little and talked even less since most of these were first dates. We then sat down to dinner, terrified at the thought of turkey gravy and cranberry sauce all over ourselves. The girls looked stunning in a variety of different colors and styles and one of a kind hair-dos. The shoes, of course were piled up high. The boys looked equally as handsome; some wearing suits, some wearing tuxedos. We had fun dancing to the music of D.J. Connection. The night ended with conversation, new friends and good memories.

PEP RALLY - THE SPIRIT OF THE GAME

JUNIOR MARSHALLS AND USHERS
DISPLAY TRADITION

Medford High Tradition was upheld in January of our junior year, when twenty-three girls and eleven boys, were selected by class advisors, Mrs. Valerie Sherman-Jannone and Mr. Charles Jannone to be the Junior Marshalls and Ushers. All candidates went through a screening process that included an application, an essay and faculty recommendations.

The Marshalls were: Tracey Avenell, Nicole Bacon, Kathy Boyd, Janine Bova, Tracy Brazil, Wendy Caparo, Carrie Casarano, Michelle Crowley, Celia Flemming, Frances Frate, Sharon Gately, Cheri King, Mary Lally, Julie McDaid, Katie Meagher, Julie O'Brien, Denise O'Connell, Mary Ragusa, Rachel Rainho, Fatima Taylor, Sandy Tranfaglia, Stacie VanderHoeff and Jennifer White. The ushers were: Michael Burns, Jacques Dahistedt, David Galusi, Todd Gerety, Peter Marchand, John Meager, Rodd Patten, Brendan Reagan, Ralph Scudo, Joe Scurio and Bobby Stewart.

After all of the fittings for the peach dresses and matching tuxedos, they were ready to help in the senior activities. Some of the Marshalls and the Ushers volunteered to help out at the Senior Prom. The first official activity was, Senior Class Day. Junior Class President, Janine Bova led the beautiful Marshalls down the stairs of the Little Theatre, while the handsome Ushers assisted at the doors.

Our major responsibility was to lead the 1988 Graduates in the Commencement Ceremonies at Hormel Stadium. It was a sad saying goodbye to all our senior friends, but we will all remember that year in our hearts forever.

JUNIOR'S DANCE THE NIGHT AWAY!

Whether it was tafetta or satin, sequin or lace, royal blue was the most popular color at the Junior Prom. The guys all looked stunning in tuxedos that perfectly complimented their dates dresses.

More than 150 couples arrived at Stoneham's Montvale Plaza on May 13, 1988 either via automobile or limousine to dance the night away. The music was played by the Dee Jay Connection & Co. with a special appearance by Lady Dee of Kiss 108 FM.

John Meagher and Tracey Avenell were chosen as king and queen and their court was chosen as Janine Bova and Carl Chioccariello, David Morey and Collen Cantillon, Steven Galbadis and Rachel Rainho, Bobby Stewart and Stacie Vander-Hoeff, and Dee O'Connell and Brendan Reagan.

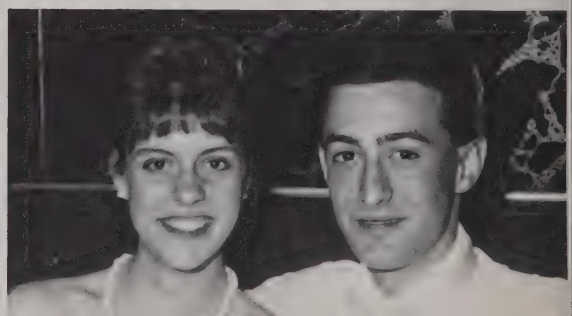

Like the prom's theme this night will remain in our hearts "Always and Forever."

SENIOR HALLOWEEN DANCE
A REAL CHILLER!

On the evening of October 28, 1988, everyone went wild as the disguised seniors hit the dance floor at Anthony's, in Somerville. This evening was the senior Class of 1989's Halloween Dance. By 8:00 p.m. the dance was in full swing as both students and members of the faculty joined in on the festivity. Along with rocking music and a tasty buffet, there were awards given for the favored costumes. Costumes ranged from your typical Hobo to a creative Freddy Krueger. The prize for the most original costume went to Carl Chioccariello and Jim Corrente for the Doctor and the patient. The Flower Children, Janine Bova, Wendy Capraro, Christa Cavallo, Mary Lally, Stephanie Scola and Stacie VanderHoeff got the prize for the best group costume. And last but not least, the funniest costume unexpectantly went to Carmine Giso as the expecting nun. The evening turned out to be a "Spooky" success for the Senior Class of '89.

Mustang News Does It Again!

Over the years a constant source of pride to our school has been the Mustang News. Now in its 27th year, the NEWS has won nearly every major journalism award in the country and has even received international acclaim. The most recent honor is the Eastern Regional Pacemaker award. The magnitude of this award required NEWS advisor Henry Selvitella, former Senior Editor Pamela Hebert ('88) and current Senior Editor Kerry Sabbag ('89) to attend a national journalism conference and award ceremony in Washington D.C. Distinction was once again brought to Medford High School when the Mustang News became the only newspaper in New England to receive this prestigious award.

The Mustang News would not be possible without the dedication of Mr. Selvitella and his staff of hard working journalists. Seniors on this year's paper are Kerry Sabbag (Senior Editor), Chris Silva (Art), Rachel Gunther (Editorials), Debbie Hobson (News), Bob Boyd (Photo), Jason Carpenter (Sports), Jennifer Mahan (Office), and Saundra Booker and Fatima Taylor (Staff). Other editors are Jennifer Galli and Christine Candora (Advertising), Erin Kelly and Jennifer Burke (Campus News), Melanie Silva (Features), and Nicole Palumbo (Previews and Reviews). This school newspaper which began as an extracurricular activity has developed into a thriving journalistic accomplishment. From national issues such as sex education and prison to film and music reviews and the wise advice of Malcolm, the award winning Mustang News is the voice of M.H.S.

Hang Up Your Gloves, Mike

Our senior year came without heed and went with the speed of light. Some of us may remember the year by particular famous faces we saw in the news, or maybe because of the humorous gossip that went along with them.

All of those girls out there who chose Patrick Swayze and Tom Cruise for their favorite male sex symbols certainly won't forget their faces. From "talk-show town", rising star Oprah Winfrey seriously shocked spectators with her new look - while Geraldo Riverra looked "mummified" after his nose-breaking brawl with Skinheads. Head of The Class star Robin Givens and Heavyweight champion Mike Tyson did a little boxing of their own at home as the bell sounds and their marriage rounds ends. Will there be a re-match??

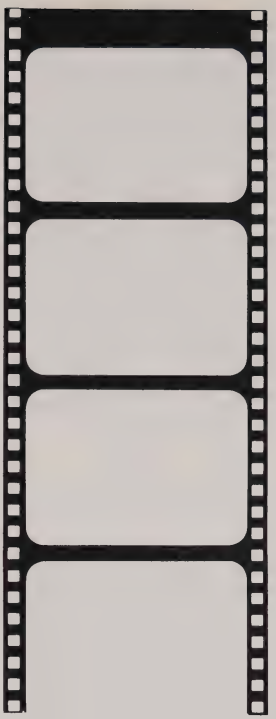

Robin KO's Mike In Marriage Round

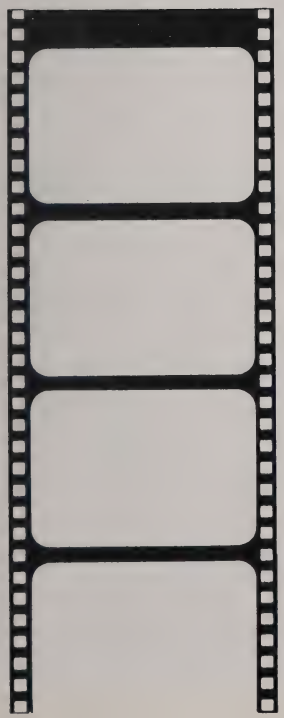

Kelly McGillis and Jodie Foster in the Accused. Kelly was a real life rape victim.

This year, the class of "89" chose The Accused as their favorite recent film. The movie is based loosely on the 1983 rape of a young women by four men in a New Bedford bar, while bystanders watched and allegedly cheered on. In the film, Jodie Foster does an outstanding job playing the victim of a gang rape. Kelly McGillis plays the assistant district attorney who prosecutes those who stood by. Kelly was originally given the choice of playing the victim but declined because she was savagely raped herself by two men in 1982.

After the movie was released, Kelly felt relieved of all the anguish that had built up inside her. Being a rape victim, she hopes to make people aware that one out every four victims is attacked by two or more assailants. Kelly feels that making the difference in someone else's life helps her overcome her hatred and fear that destroyed almost four years of her life.

Director Robert Zemeckis and star Roger Rabbit in this years #1 movie

Steven Spielberg framed Roger Rabbit into one of this year's biggest hits. With the help of the Walt Disney Co. and Steven Spielberg's Amblin Entertainment, they were able to create one of the most unforgettable, enjoyable, and entertaining movies of the year. The effect of combining both actors and animation was so unique that they even had to invent a name for it-"Multi-dimensional interactive character generation."

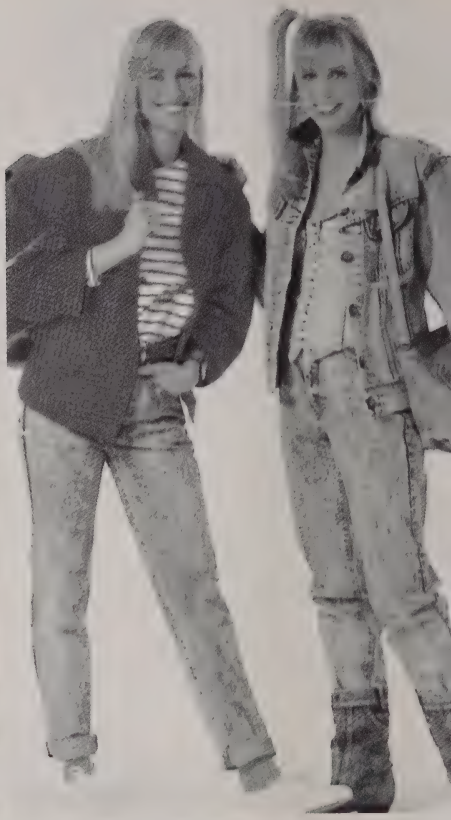

Who Framed Roger Rabbit is a look back into Los Angeles, otherwise known as "Toon town" in the late 1940's. This is where all the era's biggest studio-contract players lived, including stars like Elmer Fudd, Tweetie Pie, Bugs Bunny, and Daffy and Donald Duck.

The leading character, or shall we say leading rabbit, is Roger. He is a floppy eared cartoon star who is wrongly accused for murder. The "femme fatale" is his wife, Jessica, who is considered a heartbreaker to all men. The villians are known as pistol-packing weasels. These villians carry real pistols, are thrown against real furniture, and drive in real cars. They are all cartoon characters in a real world.

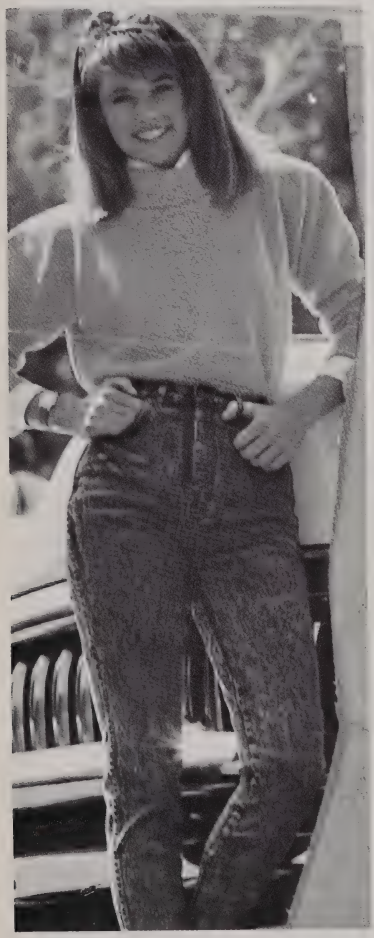

Crimped hair was definitely a hot style this year!

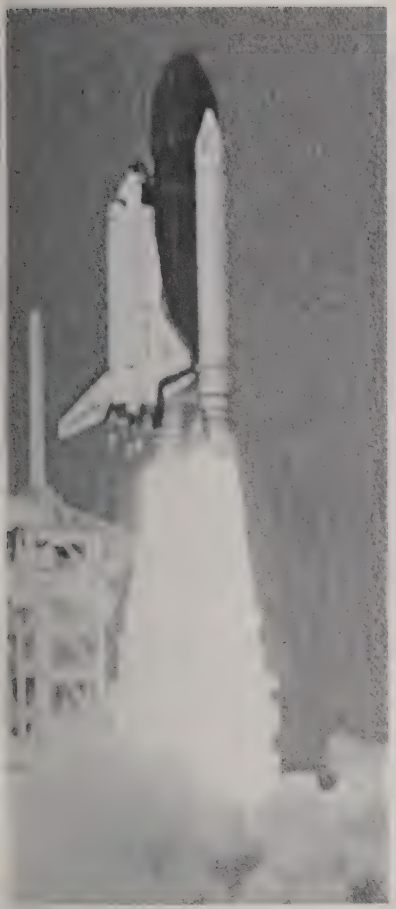

Guys and gals looked equally as handsome in denim this year. Girls jackets were multicolored and cut short above the hips, while guy's jeans could usually be seen cuffed around the ankle. Denim was just as popular in girl's handbags and boots.

The casual and comfortable look this year included blue jeans, a colorful sweater, and of course, a pair of Reeboks.

3, 2, 1, LIFTOFF

America was back in the high life when the roar of those mighty rockets boomed across beaches near Cape Canaveral. Not only was the Discovery launched, but so were the hopes and dreams of America. Just three years after the fatal disaster of the Challenger that claimed seven lives, the U.S. was back in the space race.

The nation prayed with teary eyes that the flaws were now fixed. Heavy sighs of relief could be heard as the Discovery climbed higher and higher and another sigh four days later when it touched down in California.

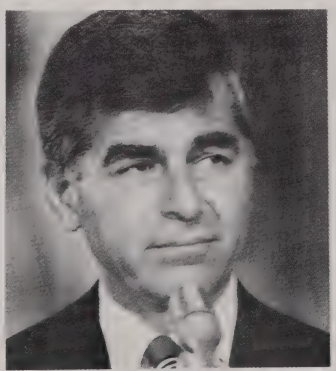

This time around, five brave astronauts trained longer and harder than any other shuttle crew to man the newly designed Discovery. Although problems with lightening foreshadowed a false start, the shuttle was soon to begin its journey.

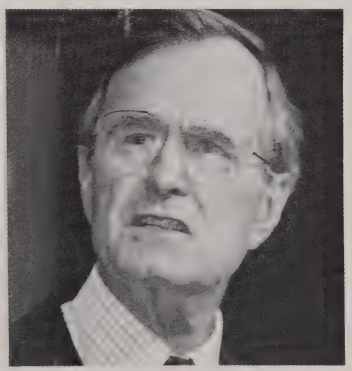

Many scientists say that for any space program to be successful, you must constantly flirt with failure. The Challenger's seven courageous astronauts willingly sacrificed their iives for John F. Kennedy's dream of opening a new frontier. They will forever remain in the hearts of Americans as the U.S. continues to open new doors in space technology.

This past November, an event occurred that will change the next four years. After months of grueling campaigns, George Bush was elected President with a 54% Popular Vote over Dukakis's 46%. Bush celebrated his victory, but was also quick to heal the wounds of the long and bitter campaign. He paid tribute to Dukakis and then said he meant to be president of all the people-including those who didn't support him.

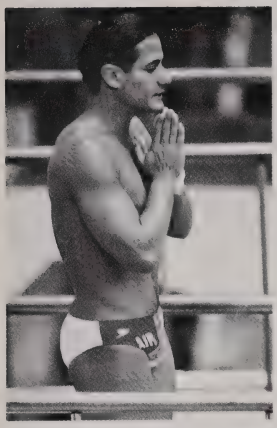

Many will say that the campaign was dirty due to the misuse of advertising. Bush demolished Dukakis's chances of winning by exposing the Duke's inability to clean Boston Harbor but he also failed to express the fact that the Reagan Administration had reduced funds for the project. Duke's lack of forwardness may have been the weakness in the campaign. It was not until it was too late in the game that he decided to fight back.

Seoul, Korea Hosts 1988 Summer Olympics

Greg Louganis of the U.S.A. is the greatest diver that ever lived. In 1984 he won two gold medals and became the only diver to score more than 700 points in a single Olympic event. This year he captured two more golds. He is the first male diver to win two golds twice.

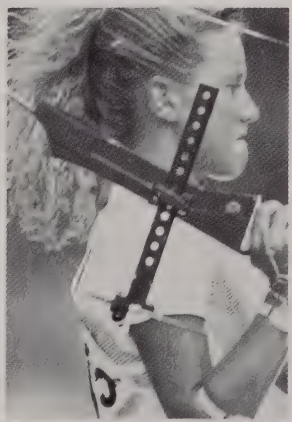

Matt Biondi of the U.S.A. joined the ranks of top international swimmers at the 1984 Olympics when he swam a leg of U.S.'s gold medal winning 400 meter freestyle relay.

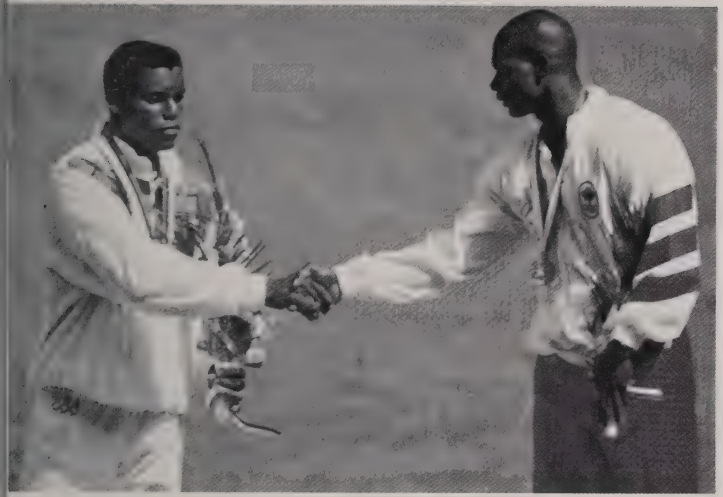

In 1987, Denise Parker of U.S.A. became the youngest person ever to win the gold medal in the individual archery competition. Now she is considered one of the best archers in the world.

Carl Lewis of U.S.A. not only brought home two golds and a silver from Seoul, but he holds an American record time of 9.92 in the 100, a near personal best of 19.79 in the 200, and a winning long jump of 28'7".

BUSTED!

A Scandal In Seoul

Ben Johnson, the Olympic Gold Medalist, had been the toast of the Olympic games for only seventy-two hours before being busted for the use of steroids. Johnson had broken his own year-old world record of 9.83 seconds with a new time of 9.79 seconds in the 100 meter dash. He had destroyed his rival, 1984 quadruple gold medalist, Carl Lewis. Johnson addressed the press later that afternoon proudly. He said "I'd like to say my name is Benjamin Sinclair Johnson Jr., and this world record will last 50 years, maybe 100. More important than the world record, was to beat Carl Lewis and win the gold." Four hours later, urine samples from the top four medalists were taken. Traces of stanozolol (an uncommon form of steroids) was discovered in Johnson's samples. As soon as the shocking news spread throughout Seoul, Johnson was stripped of his world record, and his gold medal, which was given to Carl Lewis.

Not only did Ben Johnson lose his world record, and gold medal but he was also banned from Canada's national team for life. Ben Johnson, who had been considered a very proud man with one of the greatest and brightest futures in all sports, was suddenly transformed into a man who can only look into the future and see days of shame.

Jackie Joyner-Kersee fulfilled her expectations in winning the heptathlon.

MUSTANG HALL OF FAME

On Sunday, November 20, 1988, the Irish American Club in Malden was the setting for the induction of the first Mustang Hall of Famers. Mr. Convery, active in Medford sports since 1933, is the founder and current president of this new organization. The recipients of the award traveled from as far away as California, Florida, Rhode Island, New York, Maryland, and Virginia to attend the ceremony.

The Hall of Fame is an organization honoring former Medford High School athletes and coaches. The candidates honored into the Hall can only be evaluated on their achievements in Medford High. Any acclompishments while in college or at any proffesional levels have no bearing on the committee's selection. To be nominated, the athlete must be out of high school for at least ten years, and the coach must be retired. This year 44 people were honored, which will be the largest group ever to be inducted into the Hall. From now on, not more than three athletes per decade will be honored. Among the selection committee is Vice President John Stabile, Secretary Gloria Leone, Charles Parris, Paul Murphy, Fay Adams, and Robert Carbone.

The Mustang Hall of Fame brought on an outstanding response from the community. Without the help of local patrons and businesses, the Hall may never have been established. Special thanks were extended to the Irish American Club for donating their hall, Anthony "Tony" Lucci, Thomas Howard, Gene "Mack" McGillicuddy, John and Maurice Carrole, and Medford Co-op among many other grateful contributers. Also, the Vocational High School is grately thanked for their work on the display showcase located in the library. The plaques and cabinets were manufactured by the wood and metal shops, while the electrical shop hooked up the lighting. The cabinets were donated to the Hall of Fame by the M-Club of 1988.

Recipients Claim Awards

Hall of Famer Ed Rideout recieves his award from James H. D'Entremont Jr.

Arthur Terril III recieves his grandfather's (Coach Arthur Terril) award from John Stabile.

Among some of the many athletes honored, ninety-two year old Madeline Kountze Dugger Kelley, a black woman, recieved the first female letter at M.H.S. as a high jumper in 1915.

Richard Fusco, our own submaster, recieved his honors with a very full athletic background, earning nine letters, including captain of the football team, basketball team, and baseball team. He was voted top scholar athlete at M.H.S. in 1952 by the Boston Post.

The first two black athletes to recieve recognition were Waldo "Buck" Horton, who was captain of the football team in 1915, and Leon Furr Sr., who was captain of the hockey team in 1917. Furr was also captain of the baseball team and played third base.

Edward "Eddie" Rideout greatly deserved his honors. He was captain of the 1967 football team playing 26 out of 27 games. He was also captain of the baseball team, ran track indoors and dashes outdoors, and also won the Phelan Award, Harry Smith Award, and the Redskin Award.

Richard Desmond is considered one of M.H.S.'s finest goalies. He was hockey captain in 1944 and also a good hitter on the baseball team where they won 18 straight games. Desmon went on to win a silver medal in the Olympics and was also inducted into the Hall of Fame in Minnesota.

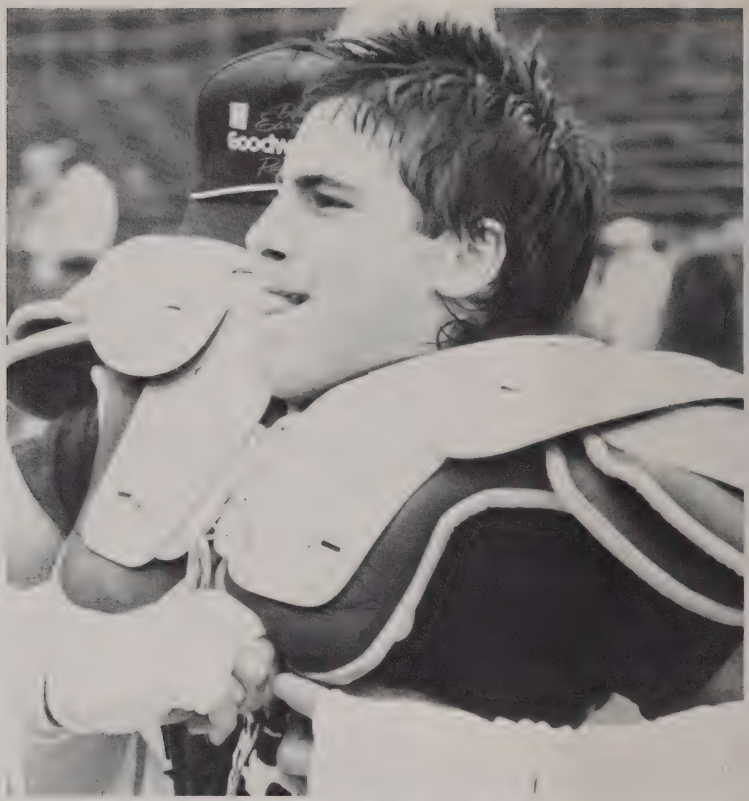

Out of all the coaches honored, just a couple of the outstanding ones are Allyn "Bud" Stillman and Arthur Terril.

Stillman was the varsity soccer coach for 29 years, and out of all those years, only lost one season. He coached 402 games with 268 wins, 102 losses. and 32 ties. His team was twice the Eastern Champs.

Terril was the varsity baseball coach for 29 years. He won 9 championships and held a record of 310 wins and 120 losses. He is considered a great athlete in his own right. Although Arthur Terril is now deceased, his grandson traveled from Maryland to proudly accept his grandfather's award.

Underdogs Beat The Odds

Being called the underdogs in the beginning of the season didn't stop the soccer team from striving for success. Throughout the season, the team showed tremendous effort, and this effort was proven when the team became known as the G.B.L. champs.

With Coach Joe Barletta, Asst. Coach "Skip" Marotta, and co-captains Fabio Riparo and Ralph Scudo in charge, the M.H.S. soccer team was lead to victory after victory. It was a shock to the fans to see this young, and somewhat inexperienced team make it as far as the semi-finals. It was the first time for sophomore goalie Manny Paolucci, along with other juniors and underclassmen, to actually play an entire game. Rather than being called the "underdogs", the team grew experienced, and became known as the stars of soccer.

Forwards, senior Jeff Fargo, and junior Brendan Fitzgerald lead the team in points, while senior defenseman, Ralph Scudo lead the team in blocking the most shots on net. Going into a game vs. Arlington, Medford and Arlington were tied for the G.B.L. title. Brendan Fitzgerald scored a surprising goal in the first half, making the Mustang team the new G.B.L. champs.

As they proceed to Andover for the first round of the semi-finals, sophomore Vito Caggiano scored a goal, tying the game. After six overtimes and sudden death, senior Fabio Riparo booted in the game-winning goal. Even though Medford lost to Beverly in the second round of the semi-finals 5-2, goals scored by senior Scott Cullinane and freshman Johnny Scarpelli, the Mustangs still have a lot to be proud of!

Progress Came Slowly But Surely

Can you believe it? The Medford High Girls Soccer Team had its first winning season ever! Their record was 9-8-1, a big improvement compared to previous years. This year the team was lead by coaches Al Luongo, Jim Rainho and tri-captains, Colleen Cantillon, Rachel Rainho, and Karen Kelly. With more experience and some very talented freshmen, the Girls Soccer team was able to beat some very tough teams. The biggest thrill of the season was the teams' victory against Peabody, the fourth place team. In the four years that the seniors have played, there has never been one goal scored against Peabody. It was the last game of the season, and the last game ever for the seniors. The team was ready to win, and they did, the score being 2-1. The two goals were scored by Denise Cantillon, a freshman, and Sharon Gately, a senior.

Each and every player was important to the team. Playing in the forward position were Lisa Skoog, Erica Petersen, Sharon Gately, Gina Colangeli, Joelle Rose, Katy Puopolo, and Denise Cantillon. The mid-fielders were Colleen Cantillon, Stacey Roberts, Karen Kelly, Rayanne Conway, and Stephanie Scola. And the team would not be complete without the defenders: Julie McDaid, Celia Fleming, Maura Fleming, Nancy Greenwood, Diane DiLeo, Katie Meagher, and the teams' goalie Rachel Rainho. Also, named to the All-Scholastic Team were Julie McDaid and Celia Fleming. A CONGRATULATIONS is long overdue for this team!!

Team Brings Respect Back To Boys' Hoop

For quite a while, Medford High basketball was fast becoming and extinct pleasure. It wasn't in danger of being crased from the sports program or anything like that, but you had to go back to 1985 for the last winning season. Fans and students began to lose interest and the Mustang hoop player was a dying breed.

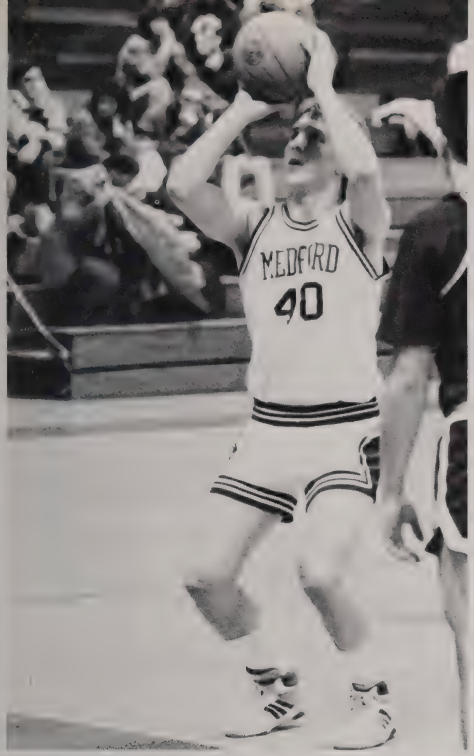

But in the 1988-89 season, some of that lost excitement and enthusiasm came back. The Mustangs more than tripled last year's wins, winning four straight at one point. Led by senior co-captains, Mike Vining and Jason Carpenter, and junior Mike Bates, the Mustangs surprised a lot of teams, including first and undefeated Everett, in the G.B.L. Senior co-captain Bobby Stewart came back from ankle surgery in mid-season to contribute also to the Mustangs' success. Brendan Regan, Todd Gerety, Joe LeBlanc, Dave Galusi, Anthony Bennett, Eddie Carnes, Greg Carr, and Mike Baker also played key roles during the year. The excitement was definitely there as well as the intensity as Coach Angel Torres and assistants Mark Smith and Bobby Maloney will attest to, but they lacked the height that is so essential to a successful team. If anything, the 1988-89 season brought a lot of respect back to Medford High Hoop.

Girls' Basketball Shows Great Strength

It was the beginning of a new season that both the newcomers and returning players had hoped for. The girls worked hard and played even harder to defeat Quincy and Cambridge in the first two games.

In the Christmas Tourney, held at Pope John High School, they put their skill and intensity together to win the first place trophy after beating Pope John and Malden High. Another impressive win was versus Malden High, for the Medford/Malden trophy. Medford has won the trophy for two years in a row.

Coach Ralph "Skip" Marotta and junior varsity coach Miriam King are excited about the team's enthusiasm and talent. Fred Pizzi also assists with the coaching and has brought a lot of new ideas to the team.

The girls play well as a team, with a strong desire to play basketball. As the season moves on, each player will learn about teamwork and can be proud of the strength that was seen in each game of the 1988-89 season.

Medford High Harriers

5 and 1 was the final record of the Boys' Cross Country team this season. Although much is credited to senior captain Brian Kelly, the Mustangs couldn't have pulled out as strong without their "number two" guy, junior Dana Tardelli.

The boys faced their only loss to Peabody, coming up short by a mere three points. One of the factors contributing to this loss was the absence of senior captain Michael Hegarty and senior Joe Scurio. Both were unfortunately out with injuries.

Other runners included juniors, Al Firicano and Henry Hom, sophomores, Nick Karasoulos and Dave Elliot, and freshmen, Eric Chisholm, Sean Nadeau, and Josh Smith.

Even though second in their overall league standings, they're still the number one team with us.

The Girls Cross Country team only won one meet this year. Not because they lacked in talent or ability, but because they lacked the required minimum number of runners. League rules states that a least five runners must start and finish. Unfortunately, until the second to last meet against Everett, the girls only had four members on the team.

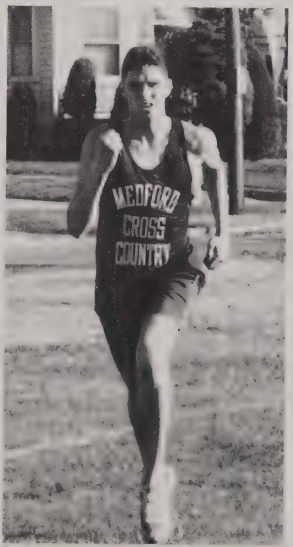

This, however, did not crush our Mustang's pride. Junior captain Maria Iozza, senior Lee D'Allesandro, sophomores Marsha Cullinane and Krista Govoni, and freshman, Alice Reynolds still gave their one-hundred percent.

1989 Grid Team Showcases 21 Seniors

The 1989 Medford Mustang Football Team featured 21 seniors and resulted in a 4-6 overall record. Tri-captains Brendan Regan, John Meagher, and Steven Galbadis led the gridders coached by Mr. "Bud" Kelley who was assisted by Mr. Harry Marchetti, Mr. Mark Smith, Mr. Joseph Giordano and William Quinlan.

The early loss of Jack Dahlstedt was an emotional blow, but his unexpected return for Turkey Day was an psychological lift. The ten game season was marked by a tough loss to Arlington and a tremendous come from behind victory over Peabody. Throughout the season, offensive displays by Jim Martorana and the defensive pursuits of Rodd Patten characterized the competitive Mustang spirit that is a standard for Medford High Football.

Co-captain Galbadis summed up the season this way. "The team was much better than our record stated. A few plays going the other way could have made the difference." The Mustangs came within a missed two point conversion of defeating Malden in the 101st meeting of these traditional rivals of Thanksgiving Day. The final score was Malden 14, Medford 13.

Cheerleaders Express Their Mustang Pride

These twelve, hardworking girls added a burst of excitement to the football and basketball games. With their loud voices echoing off the gymnasium walls and circulating throughout the football fields, the cheerleaders added enthusiasm and anticipation to both the team and the crowd.

In addition to their normal summer practices, the cheerleaders traveled to Emanuel College where they participated in four days of camp. Here, the girls learned how to do partner stunts, pyramids, and new ways to cheer.

In the annual Thanksgiving Day pep rally, the cheerleaders showed their "new" cheering styles, dancings to the Jets' hit Private Number. Their stiff movements and coordination impressed the audience.

Along with dancing, the cheerleaders also demonstrated their flexibility and spirit as they cheered on the football players, celebrating the Thanksgiving Day game.

Whenever there was a football or basketball game, they were there, expressing their Mustang Pride.

Pom Pom Girls Strive For Perfection

SPI-RIT, spirit leads to victory! As these words rang from the pom-pom girls, they demonstrated both spirit and pride at the hockey and soccer games. They added a burst of energy to the soccer fans, and warmed up the hockey fans in the chilly arenas. Their dedication was proven as they cheered through the warm and rainy weather on the soccer fields, to the rather cool temperatures of the hockey arenas.

With only three returning girls, this rookie squad spent many hours during both the summer and regular school year, learning, practicing and perfecting cheers. These cheers showed the enthusiasm that these girls had, which helped add to the motivation and spirit for the players. Being a hockey and soccer cheerleader is a great deal of work, but in the long run, is a lot of fun! With the spirit of this squad, these two sports were supplied excitement, and enjoyment.

Hockey Team Shows Great Determination

Young, but determined, the Mustang Hockey Team entered this season with David Nelson and Peter Marchand as co-captains. This team exceeded preseason predictions and expectations, beating Peabody and Brockton early on. Spearheaded by underclassmen offensive threats Jarred Morey, Chris D'Addio and Mike Shea, the team came together to become a cohesive unit sure to find continued success in the future. Under the constant supervision of Coach Charlie Driscoll and assistant coach Steve Rollie, the club showed the Mustang determination that has become the hallmark of M.H.S. Hockey.

Indoor Track Sprints Through Season

The Boy's Indoor Track Team ended their season as champions of the Greater Boston League Conference Meet. They ended the regular season with a record of 5-2. Senior Brian Kelly was the 2 mile event league champion for the 1988-89 season. Jeff Fargo, Robert Lynch, and Rodd Patten provided talent and experience to the champions.

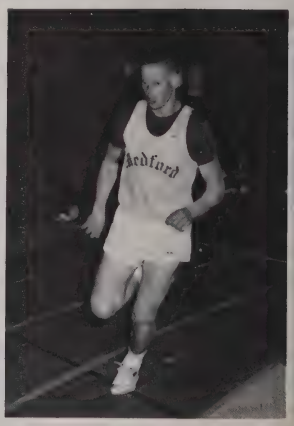

With a season record of 6-1, the Girl's Indoor Track Team finished in second place in the Greater Boston League this season. Seniors Jeanne McKay, Lee D'Alessandro, Laurie Arthur, and Colleen Cantillon contributed leadership and success to the winning formula. Both teams, coached by Mr. Steve Mascoll, sprinted through this short but intense season in victorious fashion with what could be seen as the Ole one-two punch in season or meet standings!

M.H.S. Linksters Put And Strut

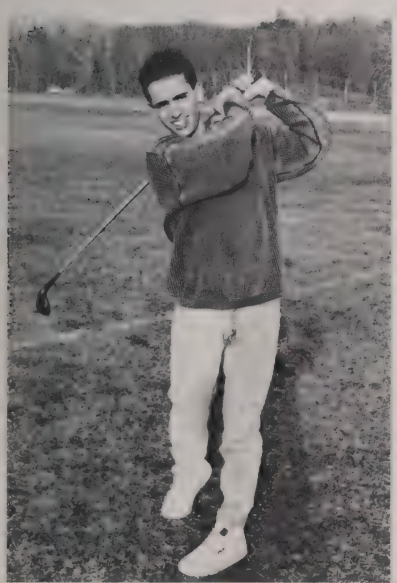

Trying not to be lost in the shuffle of the football season, the 1988 Golf team actually turned out a good season. The future also looks bright seeing that there were only three seniors on the team. Co-captains Mike Shea and Mike Bates will be back, leading the way, as they did this year. Mike Vining had a good season, as well as Mike Watson and Barry Driscoll, who are the three seniors leaving the team. All returning next year are the two captains, Shea and Bates, Greg Carr, Matt Stagliano, Tim Napier, and Sean Murphy.

As far as their sub-500 record goes in 88, it was better than it sounded. A couple of tough, close losses that should have been wins were the difference between a winning and losing season. Coach Butch Jewett will be back to coach the guys again next season ... a year that promises not to get lost in the football shuffle.

Swimmers Rebuild With Young Talent And Mustang Pride

The Medford High Swim Team found itself in a rebuilding season after graduating seven swimmers from last year's team. Eight first time upperclass members and eleven freshmen provided the raw materials and senior co-captains Brian LaPorte and Chris Silva provided the leadership. The Season included a tough loss to GBL rival Arlington and Malden Catholic and big wins against Northeast Vocational High and North Andover High.

Gymnasts Maintain Positive Attitude

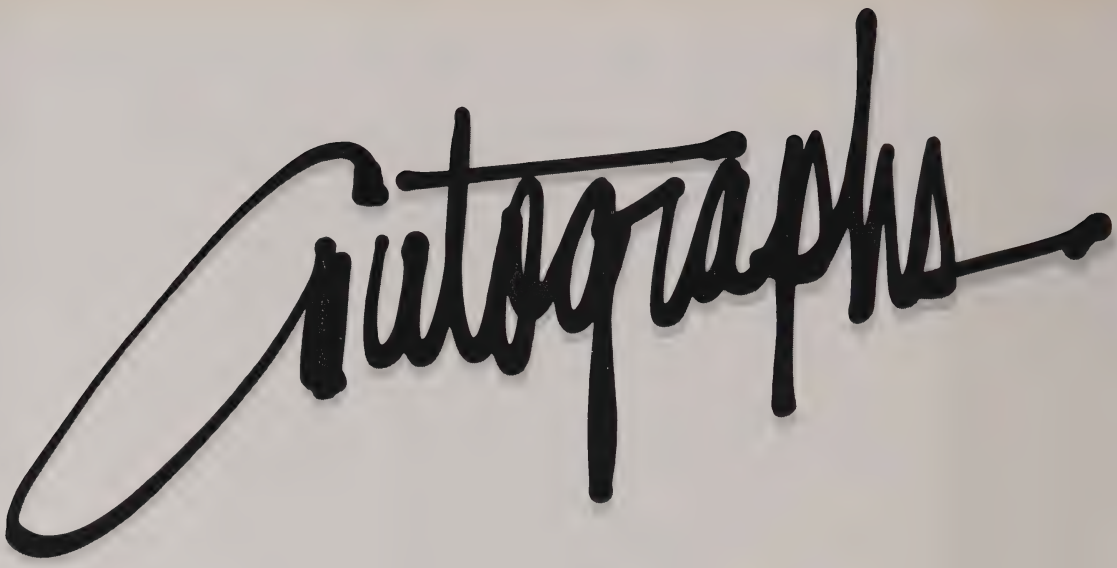

The Medford Gymnastics team had a rebuilding season this year despite their record. The girls maintained positive attitudes and high spirits throughout the season. The team consisted of freshman Sonya Palluci, sophomores Marsha Cullinane, Katie Arsenault, Sandy Bonaventura, Nicole Lespasio, Kristen Sullivan, Kimberly Quigley and juniors Mellisa Amerina and Donna LeVecchia.

There were two girls injured this season-Mellisa Amerina and Sonya Pallucci. They will be missed for the rest of the season. This young team will be a strong contender for future years. These hard-working girls have improved greatly since the beginning of the season and their efforts will soon pay off.

Just four years ago
Our Class began a new trip
One that took each on a search
To see just where we'd fit

Some found that "fitting in"
Was often difficult to do
Always trying to be in
And having something to prove

A fading gown, A baseball hat
Lunch in Caf or on the Overpass
These are a few of the little things
That helped our Class with "fitting in"

These passed few years have proved to be
A challenging game, a puzzle maybe?
A puzzle consisting of many pieces, no doubt
Different pieces fitting together somehow

As we anxiously look forward to graduation day
Sadly, we know we will go our own way
Before you go on your journey into time
Remember you were a piece of the class of "89"

1989 SUPPLEMENT

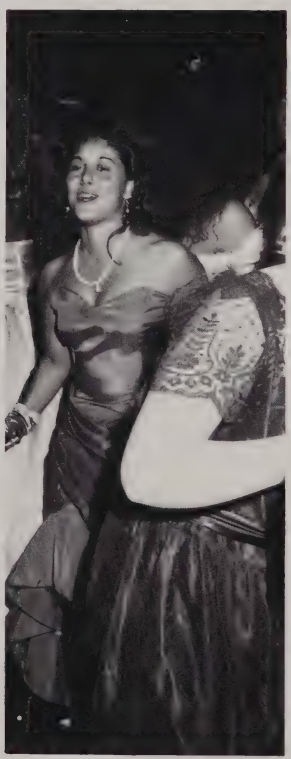

IS THIS THE END? . . .

. Or is it the beginning? For many people, The Prom may signify the end; the last time our class gathers together, Dressed and transported like the Rich & Famous, but kicking off their shoes & partying like true graduating seniors.

The 1989 Senior Prom was held at the Colonial Hilton in Lynnfield. Although the skies were gloomy, and threatened our big night, everyone's spirits were high. From long, formal gowns and tuxedos and tails, to short, casual dress with pumps, the dance floor was alive with an array of colors.

Before we knew it, they were playing our last song, the song that represented the feelings of the Class of 1989, "Is this the End?" Let it not be the end, but a piece of a puzzle that each of us will continue to assemble for the rest of our lives.

SCHOLARS AND

Senior Class Day was held in May and many of Medford High's scholars were honored with scholarships from various colleges and community services. Frank McBride and Ned O'Donnell livened things up as they read the class wills and prophecies dressed, appropriately, as prophets. Also the presentation of this year's Medford High School Blue and White dedication went out to Mr. Henry Selvetella. At the close of the ceremony, we all relaxed and enjoyed a senior slide show prepared by the Mustang News Staff.

The annual spring tradition of honoring athletes was held at the M-Club banquet. Athletes were awarded with trophies for their various achievements. The M-Club generously donated $2,500 to the gym's weight room.

Weather-wise, the Class of 1989 just "made it under the wire". As the last diploma was handed out, the rain had begun. After speeches by Class President, Janine Bova, Valedictorian, Celia Flemming, Salutatorian, Todd Gerety, Mayor Michael MyGlynn, Superintendent, Raymond Murano, and Headmaster, Salvatore Todaro, the diplomas were handed out and it was official. Hats were thrown, goodbyes were said and the '89 graduates were off to celebrate under the clouds and drizzle. May 31, 1989 will be remembered as both the happiest and saddest day of the Medford High Class of '89's lives.

LUAU

The Senior Luau this year was held at the Kawlaan in Saugus. On March 3, 1989; we all dressed up in our best Hawaiian attire to limbo the night away. The night started off with many pictures and hitting around a beach ball until we sat down and ate the delicious Polynesian cuisine. We finished off the night with a lot of dancing and limbo contests. It was a great way to say Aloha to the class of '89.

They compiled a regular season record of 13-7 and earned second place in the Greater Boston League with a 9-3 record. They were 0-1 in tournament play with a 8-4 loss against league rival Arlington High.

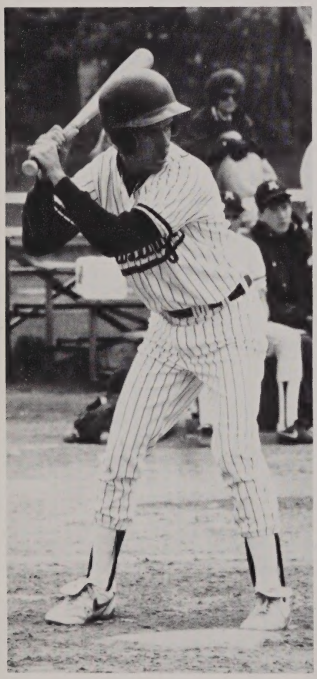

Co-captains Mike Vining, the #1 pitcher, and Rodd Patten, an infielder that the coach described as "as an imspiration", supplied the leadership on the field. Mike Watson, the right fielder, contributed plenty of offense and ended up as one of the G.B.L.'s top hitters. Greg Williams hit .275 and played the outfield well. John Meagher did an excellent job with some great plays at catcher.

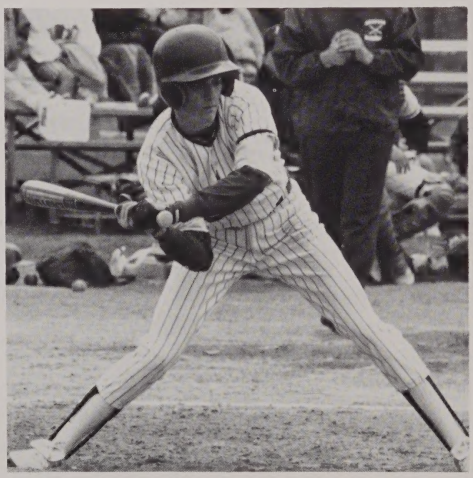

The team was loaded with talented underclassmen including juniors Mike Fernandez and Brian Orandella, and sophomores Eddie Carnes and Ricky Monagle, who was 8-0 as a pitcher and had a .245 ERA.
